

Location: Burton upon Trent

Job Type: Permanent

Hours: Full time (Various)

Salary: 18K—20K

Due to continued expansion and growth, Production Plus is recruiting a dedicated in house audio visual technician for St Georges Park near Burton upon Trent.

Production Plus is a long established company of 34 years. We host an array of event technical support services under one roof. Set, staging, video, audio, lighting, rigging, and digital media. We are a busy, personable company with our head office and warehouse based in Hertfordshire and further office space in central London. Production Plus offers a platform for exceptional staff to move and progress.

No two days are the same and this role will keep you captivated. You will interface with incoming clients in a technical capacity installing and operating audio visual equipment. You will be expected to work under the in house technical manager and interface with the venue sales team.

Main roles will include:

- Excel in customer service
- Support daily show rounds if/when required
- Setting up and operating of in house AV equipment
- Working with crews that come onsite for larger events
- Delivering a constant high standard in all disciplines

We are looking for a personable character that enjoys engaging with people. Someone who has an excellent personal appearance and a flexible attitude will be perfect for this role.

Ideal Candidate:

- A good working knowledge of AV equipment
- Be customer facing and responsive to customer needs
- A track record in the hotel, hospitality or venue sector would be an advantage
- Excellent communication skills
- Be able to work as part of a larger team
- Have a clean driving licence and own transport
